

THE LEGISLATURE.

BUSINESS RECORD OF BOTH HOUSES OF THE ASSEMBLY.

The Proceedings in the Senate—The House in the House—The Introduction of New Matter and the Passage of Bills on a Third Reading—The Reports of Committees—Policies.

The senate met at nine o'clock, President Boynton in the chair. Prayer by Rev. W. P. Bell. Roll called and journal read and approved.

Hon. H. L. Hill, of Macon county, was granted the privileges of the floor.

A message from the house was announced and read.

House bills of the first reading were called and referred to appropriate committees.

The Hon. P. H. Mell, chancellor, of the university, was granted the privileges of the floor.

A special order of the day was announced, the consideration of the invitation of the Louisville Exposition, leaving the city one day next.

The resolution of Mr. Lamar, that the invitation be accepted, was read, and after having been so amended, as to provide that no person should be drawn during the absence of the senate, and fixing Wednesday, the 12th, as the day for leaving the city, the adjournment was extended until Monday morning.

Bills of the first reading were resumed, and at which time the hour of adjournment, at 9 o'clock to-day.

The house met at 10 o'clock and was called to order by Speaker Garrard. Prayer by the chaplain. The roll was called and the journal was read.

The regular order was the reading of house bills of the third reading, and the following were considered:

Mr. Falligant of Athens—A resolution to procure a portrait of Hon. Milledge, governor and United States senator. The committee recommended $500 as the limit of the cost; the portrait to be placed in the hall of the capitol, and received 78 yeas and only 15 nays, and was passed.

The resolution failed of constitutional majority. It will doubtless be reconsidered to-day.

Mr. Little of Muscogee—A resolution to authorize H. H. Cabaniss, of W. H. Harrison to publish the acts of this session. Passed.

Mr. Rice, of Fulton, moved to displace the regular order and have read the second time bills favorably reported. Lt.

The house, in committee, the whole, considered the bills by Mr. Rice, of Fulton, to refund taxes illegally collected from the following insurance companies: The Piedmont and Arlington, Pennsylvania Mutual Life, Pennsylvania Fire, Queen, Lanthanet Life, London Assurance, Virginia Life, Alabama Gold Life, Continental Life, Springfield Life, Hoffman Fire, Citizens' Life, North America, New England Mutual Life, Mutual Life, St. Paul Fire, Washington and Knickerbocker.

The taxes were levied on these companies under a law of the state which authorized the comptroller to collect the same rate of tax from companies of other states as those states charge insurance companies of this state doing business within their limits.

Mr. Redwine, of Hall, opposed the passage of these bills. He said the taxes had been paid without protest; that the companies had raised their rates to meet these taxes; that several of these companies had gone into bankruptcy with policies in the hands of our people.

Mr. Little, of Muscogee, said the gentleman was in error as to the law and as to the facts. The question was not of a simple appropriation. It was merely whether we should refund money illegally collected by the strong arm of the law and declared illegal by our supreme court. Mr. Little said that the constitutional or legal objection could be urged to the payment of this money. The house should not vote down these bills without some reasons for doing so.

Mr. Little quoted from supreme court reports to prove that the money had been illegally collected. Mr. Middlebrooks, of Newton, argued that this tax was a special burden imposed on the insurance companies, and that they had paid it out protest they should not have it refunded. The state of Pennsylvania certainly charges the same amount as is here charged on these companies.

Mr. Redwine, of Hall, said this money was more a license than a tax.

Mr. Little—I read from the comptroller's certificate that this money was collected "as tax."

Mr. Redwine, of Hall—Still, I think that this was more of a license than a tax.

Mr. Little and Mr. Redwine, in colloquy, referred to various decisions of the supreme court as to the municipal taxes, some of which seemed to be conflicting.

Mr. McGregor, of Warren, moved that these bills be referred to the comptroller general, but withdrew the motion on a point of order by Mr. Mitchell, of Gwinnett, that such a motion could not be made in committee of the whole.

Mr. Hulsey favored the passage of the bills as an act of justice, the money having been illegally collected and unjustly held by the state.

On motion of Mr. Redwine, of Hall, the committee reported the bills to the house with the recommendation that it do not pass.

Mr. Rice, of Fulton, asked leave to withdraw the bills as he said the house seemed determined not to pass them.

The chair is there any objection to the withdrawal?

A member—I object.

Mr. Rice then asked that the question as to whether he could withdraw the bills be put to the house. The motion to be allowed to withdraw the bills was agreed to, though there was a considerable negative vote.

Mr. Middlebrooks, of Newton, moved to repeal the act regulating the giving in of wild lands for taxation.

The house was miserably thin, and it was necessary to put every question more than once to draw up a quorum. Sometimes the roll had to be called on the simplest question, and the business of the day went at a snail's pace. The clerk, by calling the roll on the tabling of Mr. Middlebrooks's bill, managed to find 100 members, or 12 more than a quorum. The bill was tabled.

A bill to fix the line between North Carolina and Georgia so far as the same is the line between Rabun county, Georgia, and Macon county, North Carolina.

Mr. Reese, of Wilkes, asked what the object of the bill was.

Mr. Redwine, of Hall, said it was to settle an old dispute as the boundary line between the two counties named.

Mr. Wood of Walker—A resolution providing for the proper repair and care of the sword voted by the state to Colonel Daniel Appling, Passed.

Mr. McIntosh, of Dougherty, stated that he had from the cotton merchants and buyers of Albany a memorial setting forth the fact that the insurance companies doing business in this state had formed a pool and raised the rate on cotton.

The cotton men ask legislation on the question. Mr. McIntosh offered with the memorial a bill to amend the present law so as to reduce the amount required to be deposited with the comptroller from $2,500 to $1,000. The bill with the memorial was referred to the judiciary committee.

A bill to fix the compensation of coroner's jurors failed of a constitutional majority, as such bill was liable to do with such a thin house. It received 7 yeas and 11 nays.

Several bills were tabled because the slightest opposition could kill them with such a thin house.

The house adjourned till 3 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The house met at 3 o'clock, and was called to order by the speaker.

The regular order was the reading of local and special bills. The following bills were passed:

A consolidated bill to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors within three miles of certain churches in Jackson and Oglethorpe counties.

A bill to prohibit the sale of liquor in Floyd county outside of Rome.

A bill to declare an enclosed land line in certain parts of Floyd county to be a legal fence.

A bill to incorporate the town of Dublin, in Laurens county.

A bill to incorporate de novo the town of Forrestville, Floyd county.

A bill to confer additional powers on the mayor and council of Atlanta.

A bill to amend an act creating a board of commissioners of Dooly county.

A bill to fix the liquor license in Telfair county.

A bill to prevent cattle from running at large in Warren county was passed after being amended on motion of Mr. Watson so as not to infringe upon the rights of citizens of Glascock and McDuffie counties.

A bill to prohibit the sale of liquors in Morgan county.

Mr. Gary, of Richmond, offered a resolution in acknowledgment of the recent action of the Third Maine regiment at its ninth reunion, the veterans of that regiment at speaking in glowing terms of the gallantry of the soldiers and sailors of the confederacy passed a resolution asking that the representatives of Maine in the national congress use their influence to secure the passage of a bill to authorize the erection of houses for maimed, disabled, and invalid confederate sailors and soldiers to be under national care. Mr. Gary referred to this action as unparliamentary and worthy the hearty appreciation of all true men. His eloquent resolutions contain a clause that a copy shall be sent to the officers of the regiment and to the governor of Maine. The resolutions were referred to the committee on the state of the republic.

A bill to prohibit the sale of whisky and intoxicating liquors in Franklin county. Passed.

A bill to amend the charter of Thomaston. Passed.

A bill to amend an act to authorize the commissioners of Newton county to levy a tax of 200 per cent on the state tax. Passed.

A bill to create a new ward in the city of Atlanta. Passed.

A bill to prohibit the sale of liquors in Henry county. Passed.

The house adjourned to 9 o'clock Tuesday.

LEGISLATIVE SESSION.

Several times yesterday the absentees were in the majority in the house.

The afternoon session dispatched business very well, but the morning session was a draw.

The legislature has visited the treasurer several times. Up to September 1st the members have drawn $43,588.70.

Sixty-seven members of the house were absent yesterday, when the roll was called yesterday, though the house met an hour later than usual.

Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose he has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At first, symptoms of indigestion are present, as flatulency, uneasiness, etc. The next stage is a smarting, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, particularly at night after getting warm in bed. A very common attendant. Blind, bleeding and itching piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the part affected, swelling the tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure where all other remedies have failed. NEW YORK, September 3.—The week opened with a slightly higher market for stocks. The improvement was only temporary, however, and shortly after the first transactions a decline of 1/4 to 1/2 per cent took place, the latter for Oregon and Transcontinental. This was succeeded by a decided bearish feeling, and an advance of 1/4 to 1/2 per cent, the Villard, Central and Union Pacific, Grand, Denver, Louisville and Nashville, the Truck Lines, Texas Pacific and Wabash being most conspicuous in the movement. Speculation was buoyant at times during the day, and round amounts taken for both accounts. There was a quiet spell during the afternoon, and there were sales to realize, which caused a general decline of 1/4 to 1 per cent, but in the final dealings a recovery of 1/4 per cent. The market closed at a recovery of 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. Compared with Saturday's closing prices, the 1/4 to 1/2 per cent higher. In specialties, Alton and Terre Haute preferred rose 1/4 to 1/2; Oregon Improvement 3/4 to 1; Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh 3/4 to 1; Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati and Indianapolis 1/4 to 1/2; Chesapeake and Ohio 1 to 1 1/2; East Tennessee preferred 1 to 1 1/2; Memphis and Charleston 2 to 4; Minneapolis and St. Louis preferred 2 1/2 to 3; Ohio and Mississippi 1 to 2 1/2; St. Louis and San Francisco preferred 2 1/2 to 4. Advice from the west port a continuance of weather favorable to the maturity of the corn crop, and this has led many operators to change their positions in the market, more especially as the movement of other breadstuffs has already weakened foreign exchanges, and strengthened the belief of conservative bankers on the influx of at least $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 in gold during the current fiscal year. Transactions aggregated $22,000 shares.

THROUGH THE CITY.

A GLIMPSE OF CURRENT EVENTS IN ATLANTA.

The oyster season has begun and water-melons are disappearing from the market.

Yesterday was much warmer than any day of August despite the fact that fall is here.

Washington street has been macadamized to the city limits, and now makes one of the finest drives in the city.

Officer Joseph Green was much better yesterday and his physicians think he will be able to get out this week.

The recorder's court was well attended yesterday morning, and nearly $70 in money were added to the city treasury.

Ed Baxter, a negro boy, was thrown from a mule yesterday, near the Air Line shops, and sustained a fracture of his left leg.

The man who was arrested in Cleveland, Tenn., supposed to be Butler, the man who stole Mr. Jones's horse and buggy, was not Butler.

The team hooked to Patterson's furniture wagon, ran away yesterday on Marietta street, and after a long race succeeded in demolishing the wagon.

Two small negroes engaged in a pitch battle yesterday evening, and the negroes, who were black boxes with the weapons used, and one of the boys, Tom Goodby by name, had his head badly gashed up.

Two runaways yesterday on Marietta street. One a horse under the gavel, who was probably dissatisfied by the price brought, and the other a team, belonging to the street car company. No damage done.

The residence of Mrs. George Lanier on Gilmore street was entered by burglars Sunday night, and a purse containing twenty-one dollars was stolen from the bureau drawer while a black cat was vest, were stolen from Mr. Lanier's bed room.

Chief Connolly yesterday received a letter from the chief of police of Albany in which it was stated that the negro killed by Officer Green was a well known thief in that city.

The letter also asserted that the negro and his father had both served terms in the penitentiary.

Saturday house keeper Fouts has returned from Lebanon, Tenn., where he went several days ago to attend the trial of the safe blowers.

He brought back with him the photographs of the three crooks. Their trial was postponed until December, when it will be called in Roane county, Tenn.

Officer Norman's wound received Saturday night is much more serious than was anticipated at first. The knife blade penetrated the knee joint and that joint is now stiff with a fair prospect of it remaining so. The officer is unable to turn over in bed, and his friends are compelled to lift him about.

Yesterday morning a thief entered W. M. Gordon's store on Pine street and while the proprietor was engaged, waiting upon a customer stole a pair of shoes and a box of pocket knives from behind the counter.

Gordon saw the thief as he left the store with his booty but was unable to overtake him.

Quite an excitement was created yesterday on Whitehall street by what seemed to be the most agonizing shrieks of some one in great distress. The sensation was spoiled by the excited crowd finding that it was only the result of a too vigorous jerk of an obstinate mule by one of our most prominent dentists.

Mr. John Aldridge, who has for several days served as money order clerk in the Atlanta postoffice, has decided to give up that position and return to the place he had before, with Jerry Lynch. Mr. Aldridge proved himself a very efficient assistant in the post office and his resignation is regretted. He will be succeeded there by Mr. Harry Lofton.

Sunday afternoon Captain Bagby arrested a man named Harper, against whom there are twenty-eight true bills in Newton county. The indictment against Harper charge him with retailing liquor to the students at Oxford college. When arrested Harper had a certificate of deposit given by J. H. James, the banker, for $2,000 and $300 in money. Captain Bagby yesterday carried his prisoner to Covington, where he was released upon bond.

Mr. C. W. Doughty, of Augusta, together with Mr. J. W. Slappy, are in the city, on the subject of freights. They propose to release Atlanta from the domination of railroads along by bringing in the competition of water transportation via Augusta from Savannah and Port Royal. To importers they can offer special inducements, and will, today, induce the merchants to share of these benefits, and some of the most accomplished young teachers in the state have come from that school.

Georgia is entitled to twelve students in the school. The school has always had applicants, but there are always many applicants. State School Commissioner Orr in making his selections has had reference solely to the qualifications of the applicants to become good and useful teachers. No other considerations have weighed with him, and after careful deliberation he has appointed the following from the list of applicants.

Miss Lettie Mitchell, Sandersville; Miss Belle Jennings, Barnesville; Miss Agnes A. Tinsley, Canton; Miss Minnie A. Field, Dalton; Miss Jennie Cates, Newnan; Miss Carrie D. Ballard, Senoia; Miss Annie Lou Love, Atlanta; Mr. W. B. Coffey, Logansville; Mr. B. D. Ragdale, Hensley; Miss Anna J. Hurst, Decatur; Mr. G. G. Bond, Woodstock, Ga. The appointees are entitled to two years' tuition free at the normal school, and each of them receives $200 a year from the Peabody fund.

THE NORMAL SCHOOL.

State School Commissioner Orr Appoints Twelve Students From Georgia.

The normal school at Nashville, which is supported by the Peabody fund, has done a great work in preparing teachers for the south. Georgia has received her share of these benefits, and some of the most accomplished young teachers in the state have come from that school.

Georgia is entitled to twelve students in the school. The school has always had applicants, but there are always many applicants. State School Commissioner Orr in making his selections has had reference solely to the qualifications of the applicants to become good and useful teachers. No other considerations have weighed with him, and after careful deliberation he has appointed the following from the list of applicants.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

They Open with a Larger Attendance than was Ever Recorded Before.

The public schools of the city were opened yesterday with the largest attendance ever recorded on an opening day. The present year for seats is greater than has ever been before, and so many have failed to gain admission that private schools are freely discussed by those whose children have failed to get into the schools. It was suggested yesterday that Atlanta will have to go on until every neighborhood in the city has a school. The high schools have been so well attended that the building heretofore used is now at a premium, and at the session which opened yesterday, it is given over entirely to the girls and the boys were quartered in the old city court room in the city hall building, which has been partitioned off into rooms for that purpose. It is not known yet what the grand total of attendance will be nor in what rooms of the different schools there will be vacant seats. A great many will make application to day and it is expected that for some time to come there will be a great deal of business.

The boys' high school opened with 79 on the roll and the following teachers: Professor W. A. Bass, principal and teacher of grades Nos. 1 and 2; Professor W. M. Slaton No. 3.

SAM HILL'S WIDOW.

She Applies for a Divorce in the Superior Court of De Kalb County.

Sam Hill's widow again comes to public notice. It is pardonable to call her a widow as the wily Sam is dead to her and the world. This time she appears in the light of a litigant. In De Kalb Superior court "Mrs. Focosa S. Hill" has instituted suit for divorce against her husband, Samuel H. Hill. The story of this woman's life is full of romance and tragedy, and the following committee appointed to prepare suitable memorials on them, and report the same as practicable during the present term of court.

On Judge Crawford: John Peabody, J. M. Smith, L. E. Buckley, A. M. Speer, W. A. Hawkins, W. M. Reese, A. McIntyre, J. W. H. Underwood, Hugh Buchanan.

On Judge Jenkins: J. B. Cummings, W. W. Montgomery, R. F. Tripp, E. F. Loring, E. M. May, A. R. Lawton, N. J. Hammond, Joseph E. Brown, D. A. Vason.

The best notes of cases decided on Saturday last are in type, but are crowded out of this issue. They will appear to-morrow.

Nervousness, debility and exhausted vitality cured by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

Draw 'em up, you've got to do it," said Hill, and with that he shot Sam Hill in the head and he fell dead at his feet.

Hill gave himself up, was tried and convicted, and on a recommendation to mercy was sentenced to the penitentiary for life. He insisted that he should not be tried as a judged insane. He was sent to the asylum, and by unlocking him from a room with a false key escaped to the outside, scaled a high wall and fled. He has never been recaptured.

"You do so at considerable sacrifice," said Sam Hill, a well known sporting man, when she was quite young, and it may be said quite handsome also. Hill was confiding and was away from home a great deal while his wife was in the penitentiary, and among them her husband. To make a state story short, Sam Hill became aware of his wife's infidelity and of the fact that John Simms, a prominent young man of Atlanta, was one of her frequent companions in her nocturnal tours. He looked for simmons and found him in the National hotel taking a drink.

"INCOMPARABLY BEAUTIFUL."

The Diamond Patent Flour has now been sold in Atlanta 16 months. Thousands testify to its superiority. Here is a sample note from one of the nicest housekeepers in Georgia:

"Philomath, Ga., Aug. 25, 1883. Messrs. Dohme & Duffie, Gentlemen: Every article of the Goods you shipped me proved to be of the best quality. The Diamond Patent Flour is incomparably beautiful, the prettiest I ever used, and is universally admired.

Respectfully, MRS. H. S. GLENN.

We have purchased the stock of Shoes, Hats and Gents' Furnishing Goods from Messrs. McCalla Bros., No. 3 Whitehall street, and will continue the same lines of business at the old stand.

We bought this stock at a heavy discount for cash, and now offer it to the public at great sacrifice in order to make room for the immense new stock we will bring on in a few days. We will, for the next two weeks, sell Shoes, Boots, Hats, Caps, Umbrellas, Gents' Furnishing Goods without regard to cost, as we are determined to "clear the deck" in order to begin the fall trade with new goods and latest styles.

The goods we have on hand are mostly first-class in all respects, but we have some that are a little "off style," but good goods. These we have marked down to give those who are not too fastidious such bargains as they seldom have an opportunity of getting. Our business will be strictly cash on the spot.

The Lucky Men.
For a week past speculation has been rife here as to the holder or holders of the part or parts of the ticket 61,881, which drew the second prize of $25,000 in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery. The question remained unanswered until yesterday. It was learned during the day that the ticket, a fifth, had been deposited on Friday with Agent Echols, of the Southern Express company, for collection. He was interviewed yesterday, on the subject, and admitted that he had not only forwarded the ticket, but had received and counted out in the morning the $25,000 all in crisp, new $20 bills, evidently just from a bank. But he would not reveal the name or names of the lucky men.
It was a professional secret. But the secret could not be kept. The New Orleans Times Democrat of Sunday announced in the names of holders of leading tickets that Messrs. Sam Selig and J. M.
Littichale, of Selma, had a fifth of the noted number. The gentlemen were seen in the afternoon and admitted their good fortune. They undoubtedly had $25,000 each in good money. They bought five tickets, fifths of separate numbers, in particular, as they had frequently done in the past. Mr.
Selig had been a regular buyer for fifteen years past, and has won smaller sums before. He is the bookkeeper of Messrs. Griel & Kahn, a quiet, deserving, estimable young man. Dr. Littichale has been supervisor of the street force for several years past, and the money comes in very nicely for him.
He leaves in a few days on a visit to his aged mother in New Hampshire. The effect of these gentlemen's good fortune will undoubtedly be the finest of advertisements in this place for the Louisiana State Lottery.—Selma, (Ala.) Times, August 21.

A Card of Appreciation.
Within the next few days a publication will appear with this notice:

20 and August 24, is contained in this publication.
The first three speeches were written out in full and delivered from the manuscript; the last with Judge Tourge's speech was taken down by the reporter and is here found as he wrote it out."

This publication will be sent free, post paid, to any address. Papers that will kindly publish this card will oblige.
